

Let's Light the Christmas Tree

This piece was written by a talk show host that my grandmother loved to watch everyday at noon. Her name is Ruth Lyons. She wrote this in honor of her daughter Candy who died at the young age of 21 from cancer. This was my grandmother's favorite piece and I can still hear her say, "Come on Darlene, come play Let's Light the Christmas Tree."