

Somewhere In Time

This piece was originally arranged for one of my friend's weddings. When it repeats in the higher octave ranges...that's when she appeared...and as it gets more and more intense, the loudest part she met her husband, then it quiets down so the pastor could ask who gives this woman away and her family answered,...then they walked the rest of the way to where the pastor stood and it ended.